Introduction

The work of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod and its boards and committees is guided by five categories of documents: (1) the Holy Bible, (2) the confessions of the Lutheran Church set forth in the Book of Concord of 1580, (3) the articles of incorporation, (4) the constitution and (5) the various guidelines.

The Bible is the holy, perfect, inerrant, soul-saving Word of God to which nothing is to be added and from which nothing is to be taken away.

The symbolical books or confessions, enumerated in the constitution, are the works of men, but we believe them to be “a correct statement of the teachings of Scripture.”

The articles of incorporation are the synod’s face to the world. Articles are required of all corporations and state the mission of the corporation and its civic relationship. There are four: (1) The Articles of Incorporation of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod (Minnesota), (2) The Articles of Incorporation of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod (Wisconsin), (3) The Articles of Incorporation of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod Foundation and (4) The Articles of Incorporation of Bethany Lutheran College.

The constitution describes the manner in which the synod will function. The bylaws of the constitution provide more elaboration.

The guidelines provide direction for the work of the various boards and committees of the synod, for the conduct of the conventions, and for the work of the visitors.

While the synod has no authority to amend the Scriptures or the confessions, it does have the authority in convention to amend the articles of incorporation, the constitution and the bylaws, as well as these guidelines, provided that the proposed amendments have been previously announced in the Book of Reports and Memorials or the Convention Handbook and are a part of the agenda. Amendments to the constitution require ratification at the succeeding convention.

This handbook contains the articles of incorporation, the constitution and the guidelines. These documents have been assembled into three sections, Administration, Faith and Service, and Education. These are detailed for you in the table of contents. There follows a listing of the congregations by the circuit divisions and a topical index.

All of the parts of the handbook except the tables of contents and the index have been adopted by the synod in convention; therefore, it is the obligation of the officers, the boards and committees and the congregations to follow their guidance. The guidelines are the directions that the conventions have given to the boards and committees as they proceed to conduct their business. These documents were written, revised and approved by men, therefore they are subject to error and to changes that circumstances or time may bring. Guidelines that are no longer appropriate should not be ignored, but mention should be made of them in the board or committee’s regular report to the convention. It is most likely that the convention will direct the Synod Review Committee to study the expressed concern and report to the next convention. The Board of Trustees and the president also may direct the committee to make various studies. While this handbook contains the guidelines as they were in effect following the June 2002 convention, it is likely that there will be changes adopted by succeeding conventions; therefore, it is the recommendation of the Synod Review Committee that a review of this document and any amendment thereto be made at some time within the next five years to determine whether there is need for republication.

In the fall of 1996 the president assigned to the Synod Review Committee the task of reviewing the then current handbook. The committee studied the handbook and the amendments that had been adopted by conventions since the last time that the book had been published. The goal was to design the guidelines to meet the current needs and practices of the boards and committees. Many parts have been revised more than once. Since that time [1996] the members of the committee have been Prof. em. J.B. Madson, chairman, Mr. Robert Brown, both elected by the convention; and Pastor em. Alf Merseeth, secretary, Pastor em. M. E. Twiet, and Norman Werner, all appointed by the president. In June 2002 the convention directed the Synod Review Committee and the Board for Publications to see to the publishing of the handbook.

Synod Review Committee
August 2002

As noted in the 2002 introduction, changes in the synod organization have occurred since that year. Over the past four years (2014 to 2017) the ELS Handbook has been revised to reflect those changes. The Synod Review Committee consists of two elected members (one layman and one clergy) and three members appointed by the synod president (two clergy and one layman).

The Synod Handbook, as adopted at the 2002 convention, was published according to the convention resolution (see Synod Report 2002, Resolution No. 9, p. 163).

Since 2002, the Synod Review Committee has reported on studies about which the synod conventions did not adopt the proposals. They are listed as follows:

1. The 2002 convention directed the Synod Review Committee to “study the issue of term limits in general” (Synod Report 2002, Resolution No. 2, p. 162). The Synod Review Committee’s report to the 2003 Convention included documents listing expressions of support and opposition for term limits, a paper that Rev. Christian Anderson presented at the 1952 General Pastoral Conference titled “Underlying Causes of the Deterioration and Breakdown of the Old Norwegian Synod,” a chart of those holding synodical offices from 1953 to 2003, and the committee’s recommendation to not have term limits, but that officers be limited to three consecutive terms. The 2003 convention resolved to not have term limits for the synod president and vice-president (Synod Report 2003, Resolution No. 2, p. 139).
2. The 2003 and 2004 conventions did not adopt a proposed “Procedures for Electing a Synod President and Vice President” (Synod Report 2003, pp. 135-136; 2004, pp. 138-139, Secretary’s Note, p. 139).
3. The Planning and Coordinating Committee requested that the Synod Review Committee study the issue of biennial synod conventions. The committee’s report presented four alternative options to be studied further. The convention directed that the Planning and Coordinating Committee study this material (Synod Report 2004, pp. 143-147, Resolution No. 10, p. 148).

Since 2002, the synod convention has adopted the following work of the Synod Review Committee:

The issue of adequate compensation for a pastor, already discussed by the Synod Review Committee in 1985, was assigned to the committee by the 2003 convention. In 2004, the convention adopted the revision of the Guidelines for Circuit Visitors and Visitations and the Guidelines When There is a Pastor or Teacher Vacancy in a Congregation. (Synod Report 2004, pp. 139-142, Resolutions 6 to 9, p. 148).

The 2006 convention adopted several guideline revisions: 1) the Lutheran Schools of America, which reorganized the former Board for Education and Youth (Synod Report 2006, pp. 145-156, Resolutions 2 and 3, p. 127); 2) a complete revision of Guidelines for Colloquies and the Colloquy Committee (Synod Report 2006, pp.156-158, Resolution 1, p.168); 3) Guidelines for the General Pastoral Conference (Synod Report 2006, pp. 161-162, Resolution 6, p. 168); and 4) guidelines for a sub-committee of the Boards of Regents and Trustees (especially related to capital improvements) (Synod Report 2006, pp. 163-165, Resolution 8, p. 168).

The next year, the convention adopted the restated Articles of Incorporation of the Lutheran Schools of America and directed them for filing with the State of Minnesota (Synod Report 2007, pp. 114-117, Resolutions 3-6, pp. 117-118).

In 2008, the synod convention adopted guidelines for the Procedures for adopting doctrinal statements (Synod Report 2008, pp. 143-145, Resolution 1, pp.150-151) and for a permanent Board of Appeals (Synod Report 2008, pp. 148-150, Resolution 4, p. 151).

The 2008 convention directed that Thoughts of Faith, Inc. be merged with the synod’s Board for Foreign Missions. Guidelines for this reorganized Board for World Outreach were adopted by the 2009 convention (Synod Report 2009, pp. 115-124, Resolutions 1 to 4, pp. 128-129). This action required changes to the Guidelines for the Home Missions Counselor, which changes were adopted in 2010 (Synod Report 2010, pp. 150-151, Resolution 4, p.151).

In 2011, the convention adopted a revised Chapter VII (Jurisdiction and Duties of the Officers) of the Bylaws of the Constitution of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod (Synod Report 2011, pp. 123-126, Resolution 2, p. 128).

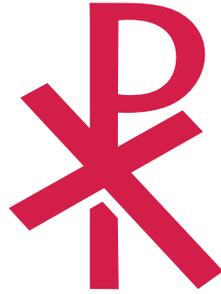

The 2012 convention, 1) established the Committee for Communication and published guidelines for it (Synod Report 2012, pp. 135-137, Resolution 1, p. 149); 2) published revised guidelines for the Board of Youth Outreach (Synod Report 2012, pp. 137-138); 3) merged the Board for Stewardship and the Office of Giving Counselor to be under the jurisdiction of the Board of Trustees (Synod Report 2012, pp. 138-140); and 4) merged the Board for Evangelism and the Board for Home Missions to form the Board for Home Outreach (Synod Report 2012, pp. 140-143).

In 2013, the synod convention resolved that the Synod Review Committee “conduct [a] review of the Handbook and to report” (Synod Report 2013, Res. 3, pp. 114-115). During the past four years (2014 to 2017) the Synod Review Committee has presented to the convention such a review with recommended changes that reflect the changing organization of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod. One major change took place in 2016, when the convention adopted the Guidelines for the Board for Education, replacing the Board for Lutheran Schools of America, but retaining the Constitution and Bylaws of the Lutheran Schools of America, Inc.

The 2017 convention adopted a new section, Guidelines to the Board of Regents and changes to the Bylaws, and Guidelines for the Board of Regents (Synod Report 2017, Res. 2.E, p. 165).

The current members of the Synod Review Committee are Prof. Erling Teigen, Rev. Theodore Gullixson, Mr. Herman Harstad, Rev. Piet Van Kampen, and Mr. Norman Werner.

The application shall be accompanied by a statement declaring the applicant's unconditional acceptance of (subscription to) the doctrines of the Holy Scripture and the confessions of the Lutheran Church set forth in the Book of Concord of 1580. - b) promote the distribution and use of the Holy Scriptures, orthodox books, devotional literature and hymn books;

- c) be watchful concerning purity and unity of doctrine (Ephesians 4:3-16; 1 Corinthians 1:10) by studying doctrinal questions which are in special need of study and discussion, trying the spirits (1 John 4:1), and warning against encroaching sects, as well as against errors and unchristian trends (1 Timothy 4:16), in accordance with the Holy Scriptures;
- d) establish and promote home and foreign missions;

- j) promote one General Pastoral Conference to be held annually and at least one pastoral conference in each circuit, and
- k) in accordance with the Scriptures (Galatians 6:1-2) serve to mediate in controversies which may arise in the synod or within its membership.

Chapter IV: Conventions

Paragraph 1

Synodical conventions are to be held annually.

Paragraph 2

Member congregations should make every effort to be represented at the synodical conventions by their pastor(s) and by two duly elected delegates. In order that they might properly represent their congregation, the delegates shall be lay voting members of the congregation and shall be elected by the voting membership of the congregation. The delegates shall present their credentials to the convention for action. The pastors serving member congregations who are in attendance at the convention and the properly seated delegates constitute the voting membership of the convention.

- a) A clergy member with emeritus status, who is serving a vacancy at the time of a convention, shall have the right to vote at the synod convention, with the vacancy congregation(s) providing convention fees and expenses.
- b) Those who are on the ELS clergy roster are ordinarily not to be elected as lay delegates.
  - 1) Pastors emeriti serving as lay delegates shall receive lay delegate equalization.
  - 2) Those on the ELS clergy roster may not be elected to lay positions on synod boards or committees.
- c) A quorum, a majority of the voting members, shall be necessary for conducting business.
- d) The president shall have the right to vote only to break a tie.

Paragraph 3

Special conventions shall be held

- a) when a regular convention so decides,
- b) when at least one-third of the congregations so request, or
- c) when the president, in concurrence with the Board of Trustees, calls for such a convention.

Normally, the delegates and committees of the previous regular convention shall serve at such special conventions.

Paragraph 4

Male members holding individual membership in the synod are advisory members to the convention and may serve on its committees. The convention shall decide who, in addition to the voting and advisory members, shall be given the right to speak.

Chapter V: Sphere of Jurisdiction of the Convention

Paragraph 1

The synodical conventions shall work to attain the purposes outlined in Chapter III of the constitution and to that end shall:

- a) review the activities of the synod as conducted by its officers, boards and committees during the previous year;
- b) by careful planning and proper resolutions arrange for the future work of the synod;
- c) elect a president, a vice president and a secretary of the synod;
- d) elect such boards and committees as the synod may determine. Only those may serve on its boards and committees who are members of the synod, and men of good repute; and
- e) decide the time and place of the next synodical convention.

Paragraph 2

Convention business shall be conducted according to Robert's Rules of Order unless modified by the Bylaws of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod or its guidelines.

Paragraph 3

With relation to the several congregations, the above-mentioned conventions are but advisory assemblies. Therefore, if a congregation believes that a (Synod) decision is in conflict with the Word of God, or finds that it does not serve its interests under the circumstances peculiar to it, the congregation should announce this to the presiding officer of the respective convention, and give its reasons for its opinion. If it does not make such announcement within six months after the secretary has published the decision of the Synod, the decision shall be considered accepted by the congregation, and it shall strive to implement it.

Chapter VI: Election of Officers and Trustees

Paragraph 1

The president, vice president and secretary of the synod shall be nominated and elected by ballot for a term of four (4) years and shall enter upon the duties of their respective offices on the first day of the second month following the conclusion of the convention at which they are elected. At the regular convention at which these bylaws are ratified the president and the vice president shall be elected for terms of four (4) years and the secretary for a term of (2) years. Thereafter all officers shall be elected for four (4) year terms as their terms expire. To the office of president and vice president only such men who are ordained members of the clergy of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod and who have served in the parish ministry of the synod may be elected and may serve. To the office of secretary only such men may be elected and may serve as are members of a congregation holding membership in the synod.

Paragraph 2

In electing the other trustees, the normal procedure for nominations shall be followed and the vote shall be by ballot. These shall be elected for a term of three (3) years; two (2) being elected at each annual convention of the synod and a third one in the year the constitution is ratified and each third year thereafter.

Paragraph 3

For the election of officers and trustees a majority of votes cast is required.

Paragraph 4

In the event of the president's death or resignation, or his inability to fulfill the duties of his office when certified by resolution of two-thirds of the Board of Trustees, the vice president shall succeed to the office of president. Other vacancies on the Board of Trustees, including those of the synodical vice president and secretary shall be filled by appointment of the Board of Trustees, and those appointed shall serve until the synod's next regular convention, when successors shall be elected for any unexpired portion of the term. The president and secretary thus appointed shall be president and secretary of the Board of Trustees also.

  - 1) If a board or committee is not scheduled to meet before the next convention following the date of the vacancy, the position shall be filled by the next annual convention.
  - 2) A vacancy more than six months before the next annual synod convention should be filled by the president.
  - 3) If a vacancy occurs less than six months before the next convention and the president determines that the vacancy will harm the work of the body, he shall fill the vacancy by appointment; if the vacancy will not harm the work, it remains until the next election.

- f) to insert adopted amendments into the official documents of the synod. Administrative, editorial and other non-policy changes may be authorized by only the synod secretary, who shall consider recommendations of the Synod Review Committee (see General Synodical Guidelines, Article III.A, and Guidelines for the Synod Review Committee, Article II.C).

- g) to review amendments that do not concern synod policy, recommended by the Synod Review Committee, and insert them in the appropriate documents. (See General Synodical Guidelines, Article III.A.3; Guidelines for the Synod Review Committee, Article II.C; SR 2012, pp.146–147, Res. 9, p.148.)

Paragraph 4: Circuit Visitors

- b) Circuit visitors are responsible to the synod president to assist him in his supervisory work with the clergy and congregations (see Guidelines for the Circuit Visitors and Visitations, Article II.A.) There shall be a visitor and an alternate visitor elected to three-year terms for each circuit. (See Paragraph 1.)

Paragraph 5: Discipline or Removal from Office

Officers, duly elected under the terms and conditions of The Constitution of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod and its bylaws, are subject to the bylaws and guidelines of the synod as they have been approved by various conventions. These officers, subject to the same human strengths and frailties as other men, and likely being subject to more serious attacks by Satan, must, when necessary, be subject to church discipline. Love for the man, the office that he serves, the synod and the Word of God must be at the heart of all disciplinary proceedings. “This is My commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you” (John 15:12).

In respect for the Eighth Commandment, any charges or assertions that are made must be specifically witnessed. Luther has written “God does not want the reputation, good name, and upright character of our neighbor taken away or diminished...Here belongs particularly the detestable, shameful vice of speaking behind a person’s back and slandering, to which the devil spurs us on.”<sup>1</sup>

The synod may suspend an officer if, after due admonition, he persists in teaching or acting contrary to the synod’s confessional standard or persists without repentance in an immoral action or behavior. In certain cases, a substantiated public immoral action may require immediate dismissal from his office.

The following guidelines apply to the president, the vice president and secretary in their capacity only as elected officers of the synod.

- a) The secretary, after being informed in writing by two or more synod members, clergy or lay, that there may be just cause for the president to be disciplined or removed from office, shall inform the officer and shall consult with the circuit visitor of the president. Included among reasons that could support such a charge or assertion are physical or mental incompetence, or the failure or inability to fulfill the duties as required in this Constitution, its Bylaws and Guidelines.
  - 1) The secretary and the circuit visitor shall review the charges or assertions and they may interview people who have knowledge of, or direct involvement in, the case. If the secretary and the circuit visitor determine that the charges or assertions are without merit, they shall so inform the president and the persons making the charges or assertions. The report shall include the reasons for the decision.
  - 2) If the secretary and the circuit visitor determine that the charges or assertions warrant further investigation, they shall refer the matter to the Board of Trustees who shall appoint a committee to make a determination concerning the ability of the president to continue in office. The committee shall be composed of the circuit visitor, three additional clergymen and a layman; one of those appointed shall be a member of the Doctrine Committee and one shall be a pastor emeritus. The secretary shall not be a member of the committee. No one appointed shall be a party involved in the case. The conduct of the review shall rest solely with the committee. It shall have the right and authority to examine all pertinent evidence and to require such testimony which in its judgment is relevant. If the charges or assertions are found to be without merit, the committee shall inform the president, the secretary and the persons making the charges or assertions. The report shall include the reasons for the decision. If the charges are found to be substantiated, the committee shall notify the president and the secretary and forward its determination to the Board of Trustees who shall issue a decision which may be removal from office or the taking of another action, keeping in mind the requirements of the Bylaws of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Chapter VI, Paragraph 4. Should the president be removed from office, see Guidelines for the Synod's Relationship to its Executive Officers, Article I.E.4.

- b) The president, after being informed in writing by two or more synod members, clergy or lay, that there may be just cause for the vice president to be disciplined or removed from office, shall inform the officer and shall consult with the circuit visitor of the vice president. Included among reasons that could support such a charge or assertion are physical or mental incompetence, or the failure or inability to fulfill the duties as required in this Constitution, its Bylaws and Guidelines.
- 1) The president and the circuit visitor shall review the charges or assertions and they may interview people who have knowledge of, or direct involvement in, the case. If the president and the circuit visitor determine that the charges or assertions are without merit, they shall so inform the vice president and the persons making the charges or assertions. The report shall include the reasons for the decision.
  - 2) If the president and the circuit visitor determine that the charges or assertions warrant further investigation, they shall refer the matter to the Board of Trustees who shall appoint a committee to make a determination concerning the ability of the vice president to continue in office. The committee shall be composed of the circuit visitor, three additional clergymen and one layman; one of those appointed shall be a member of the Doctrine Committee and one shall be a pastor emeritus. If the charges or assertions are found to be substantiated, the committee shall notify the vice president and the president and forward its determination to the Board of Trustees, who shall issue a decision which may be removal from office or the taking of another action, keeping in mind the requirements of the Bylaws of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Chapter VI, Paragraph 4.
- c) The president, after being informed in writing by two or more synod members, clergy or lay, that there may be just cause for the secretary to be disciplined or removed from office, shall inform the officer and shall consult with the circuit visitor of the secretary. Included among reasons that could support such a charge or assertion are physical or mental incompetence, or the failure or inability to fulfill the duties as required in this Constitution, its Bylaws and Guidelines.
- 1) The president and the circuit visitor shall review the charges or assertions and they may interview people who have knowledge of, or a direct involvement in, the case. If the president and the circuit visitor determine that the charges or assertions are without merit, they shall so inform the secretary and the persons making the charges or assertions. The report shall include the reasons for the decision.
  - 2) If the president and the circuit visitor believe that the charges or assertions warrant further investigation, they shall refer the matter to the Board of Trustees who shall appoint a committee to make a determination concerning the secretary's ability to continue in office. The committee shall be composed of the circuit visitor, three additional clergymen and one layman; one of those appointed shall be a member of the Doctrine Committee and one shall be a pastor emeritus. The president shall not be a member of the committee. No one appointed shall be a party involved in the case. The conduct of the review shall rest solely with the committee. It shall have the right and authority to examine all pertinent evidence and to require such testimony which in its judgment is relevant. If the charges or assertions are found to be without merit, the committee shall inform the secretary, the president and the persons making the charges or assertions. The report shall include the reasons for the decision. If the charges or assertions are found to be substantiated, the committee shall notify the secretary

- and the president and forward its determination to the Board of Trustees who shall issue a decision which may be removal from office or the taking of another action, keeping in mind the requirements of the Bylaws of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Chapter VI, Paragraph 4.
- d) The synod treasurer is not an elected officer but is appointed by the Board of Trustees (Guidelines for the Board of Trustees, Article II.D).
  - e) If the charges or assertions have been made public and are frivolous or not substantiated, the matter should be reported to the synod to the extent that it has been made public.
  - f) When it is necessary for the Board of Trustees to discuss a matter under a.2, b.2 or c.2 of this paragraph, the officers should absent themselves from the meeting. The meeting shall be chaired by a member chosen by the board.
  - g) An officer who has undergone disciplinary action under these bylaws shall have the right to appeal to the synod according to the Guidelines for Synodical Discipline and Appeal, Article V.D to H as amended. All evidence gathered in the preceding actions shall be forwarded to the Commission on the Appeal. If a president or vice president is making the appeal, the appeal should be addressed to the secretary. If it is the secretary making the appeal, the appeal should be addressed to the president.
  - h) If there is an appeal from the decision determined under these guidelines, the members selected on the Commission on the Appeal shall not be members of the committee in a.2, b.2 or c.2.
  - i) The Board of Trustees shall include in its report to the next regular synod convention any actions that have been taken under the provisions of Chapter VII, Paragraph 5.

Chapter VIII: Amendments

Amendments to these bylaws may be made in the following manner:

Resolutions for amendments are to be presented to a regular convention, and if adopted by a two-thirds majority vote, shall become amendments to the bylaws.

The constitution of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod states “The synod consists of those congregations and individuals who subscribe to this constitution and have been accepted into membership” (see Bylaws of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Chapter II).

Article I: Acceptance into Membership

(amended 2017 Synod Report, page 149)

All membership applications of pastors, congregations, and clergymen not serving congregations are expected to go before the synod in convention for final action. In the intervals between conventions, the synod president, in consultation with the vice president and/or the Doctrine Committee, may under special circumstances receive provisionally into membership congregations, pastors, and clergymen not serving congregations (through colloquy or through transfer) in anticipation of ratification by the synod. The Committee on Synodical Membership appointed and approved by each convention shall receive the required information/documents pertaining to membership applicants. On the morning of the second working day of convention week, the Synodical Membership Committee is expected to prepare appropriate resolutions for action by the convention.

Article II: Removal from Membership

(amended 2017 Synod Report, page 149)

- A. Congregations or clergymen are removed from synodical membership when they resign from synodical membership or are expelled by action of the synod.
- B. Whenever a resignation or suspension occurs, this action will be reported in the president’s annual report to the convention. Where a suspension is issued by the president, the convention committee on the President’s Message and Report, which is the committee appointed by the synod vice president and secretary and approved by the convention, shall review the report.
- C. In the event that a suspended congregation and/or clergyman chooses to appeal, the matter of the suspension shall not be reviewed by the synod in convention but only by the specially selected Commission on Appeals (see Guidelines for Synodical Discipline and Appeals).

Section 221

Guidelines for the Colloquy Committee

(amended 2006 Synod Report, page 168)

Article I: Policy

The Evangelical Lutheran Synod conducts a colloquy because it is imperative that all clergymen who are members of the synod must accept the doctrines of Holy Scripture, and the confessions of the Lutheran Church set forth in the Book of Concord of 1580. The synod expresses its doctrinal positions on various issues through doctrinal resolutions and statements, as well as in its constitution, and requires those who join the synod to be in agreement with that doctrinal position. (See Articles of Incorporation of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Article IV and Article V; Constitution of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Chapter I, Chapter II, and Chapter III; Bylaws of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Chapter I, Chapter II, Chapter III and Chapter VII; Guidelines for the Synod's Relationship to its Executive Officers, Article I; Guidelines for Circuit Visitors and Visitations, Article I and Article II.)

Article II: Membership

(amended 2005 Synod Report, page 131)

- A. The Colloquy Committee shall consist of the following members:
  - 1. The president of the synod.
  - 2. The vice president of the synod.
  - 3. The chairman of the Doctrine Committee or another clergy member of the Doctrine Committee in case the chairman is the president of Bethany Lutheran Theological Seminary.
  - 4. One layman from the Doctrine Committee appointed by the president for each colloquy.
  - 5,6. One layman at large and one parish pastor at large to be appointed by the president for each colloquy.
  - 7. The president of the Bethany Lutheran Theological Seminary.
- B. If fewer than five members are able to attend a colloquy, the president may appoint an additional member of the Doctrine Committee or a layman at large for that colloquy.
- C. The president of the synod ordinarily shall serve as chairman. The committee shall elect its own secretary.
- D. Such material as shall be pertinent to the history of the synod shall be deposited with the synod's archivist.

Article III: Application

- A. All applications for colloquy by a pastor shall be directed to the president of the synod who shall make initial inquiries and determine whether the applicant appears suitable for colloquy. In making his recommendation, the president shall also assess the synodical and parish circumstances.
- B. The president will arrange for a preliminary interview with the applicant at which time a meeting date for Colloquy—Part 1 will be scheduled. Before the Colloquy—Part 1 session, the applicant will have letters of recommendation sent to the synod president and shall provide a resume (vita), transcripts of college, seminary and post-graduate education and his decision to sever previous fellowship relations, and a statement of reasons for his desire to affiliate with the Evangelical Lutheran Synod.
- C. The president has the authority and responsibility to seek information regarding the applicant's character and professional ability through references from officials of the church body of the applicant's previous affiliation and through other professional and community references, and require other background information as may be helpful to determine eligibility for membership. Because of the charge given to the leaders of the church in 1 Timothy and Titus 1, the president may inquire into personal and family matters if he believes that there is a concern in that area.

Article IV: The Meeting with the Colloquy Committee

- A. Colloquy—Part 1: This first meeting with the committee is intended to determine whether the applicant is in agreement with the teachings and practices of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod. The committee, in advance of the meeting, shall be apprised of the applicant's biography, education and reasons for wishing to affiliate with the Evangelical Lutheran Synod. The committee shall discuss thoroughly with the applicant his position on all doctrines of the Scripture, his professional attitudes and ethics and also his previous congregational experience. At the close of the meeting, the committee will decide whether the man will be encouraged to continue with the rest of the colloquy.

- B. Upon a successful completion of Colloquy—Part 1:
1. The president will issue a public notice of the name of the applicant.
  2. Prior to initiating the requirements of Article IV. B. 3., 4. and 5, the applicant will give evidence that he has broken fellowship ties with his previous church body.
  3. For a period to be determined by the Colloquy Committee, the applicant may be asked to attend classes at Bethany Lutheran Theological Seminary. His attendance in the classroom will be that of an observer auditing the sessions with no personal tuition cost. Payment of expenses and of support for an applicant during seminary training shall be agreed upon between the applicant and the committee and approved by the president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod at the time of the colloquy.
  4. The applicant will avail himself of the opportunity to become better acquainted with the doctrinal position, traditions, history and culture of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod. He will do this both inside and outside the classroom. He will be encouraged to read selected resources; visit with the synod administrators and the seminary faculty; and attend worship services at synod churches and at Bethany Lutheran College chapel. He will be encouraged to attend one of the pastors' circuit conferences.
  5. The date for Colloquy—Part 2 will be set. Usually this will occur very soon after the man has completed any requirements agreed upon.

Article V: The Determination of the Colloquy Committee

At the conclusion of the Colloquy—Part 2, the committee may determine:

- A. That the applicant is in agreement with the Evangelical Lutheran Synod in doctrine and practice, including the pastoral qualifications set forth in 1 Timothy 3 and Titus 1, and is qualified for a Call, in which case such announcement shall be made by the president and in the synod's official publication. The committee should then also recommend the applicant for permanent membership or permanent advisory membership in the synod at the synod's next convention (see Guidelines for the Clergy Roster), or,
- B. That, if the applicant is in need of refresher study, the necessary arrangements shall be made with the president of Bethany Lutheran Theological Seminary, or,
- C. That the applicant is not in agreement with the Evangelical Lutheran Synod in doctrine and practice.

Section 226

Guidelines When There is a Pastor or Teacher Vacancy in a Congregation

Article I: Pastor Vacancy

(amended 2004 Synod Report, page 148)

(amended 2018 Synod Report, pages 158–159)

- A. When a congregation becomes vacant the visitor of the circuit and/or the president of the synod shall promptly be notified (see Guidelines for Circuit Visitors and Visitations, Article III.D.).
- B. The congregation should consult with its circuit visitor to arrange for a vacancy pastor and other necessary vacancy services.
- C. The congregation should also consult with its circuit visitor in arranging a call meeting at which time he or his representative should be present to counsel with the congregation and to submit a list of candidates that he has received from the president of the synod. Nominations for pastor may be made by the congregation from the president's list or additional nominations may be made from the Clergy Roster of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod.
  - 1. Prior to any discussion of the specific call itself, the circuit visitor should inform the congregation about the Scriptural basis of the call and its application to the congregation. The congregation should discuss and determine its specific needs. The pastoral duties should be enumerated.
  - 2. The compensation that is to be offered to the called worker should be agreed upon.
  - 3. The list of names suggested by the president and others added by the congregation should be discussed and, ultimately, one man chosen to be called, preferably by unanimous vote.
- D. In cases where a congregation or parish is unable to meet the minimum mission salary and benefits scale (see Synod Reports as appropriate), the visitor may need to encourage the congregation or parish to seek alternative ways (consolidation, mergers, shared or joint services, etc.) to secure pastoral services at the respective location. (See also Guidelines for the Circuit Visitors and Visitations, Article III.D.4.)
- E. If the calling congregation desires to issue a call to a pastor who is a member of a sister synod, it shall do so after consultation with the circuit visitor, who, in turn, shall consult with the president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod. In such cases the president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod shall consult with the president of the sister synod or of the district where the pastor currently serves. After such consultation, the president shall make his recommendation to the calling congregation.

Article II: Teacher Vacancy

(amended 2004 Synod Report, page 148)

(amended 2014 Synod Report, page 130)

When there is a teacher vacancy, the congregation should notify the ELS Secretary for Schools and request a list of candidates. It may add its own candidates from the Directory of Lutheran Elementary School and Preschool Teachers of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod. If a congregation desires to call a teacher from a sister synod, it shall counsel with the ELS Secretary for Schools regarding the proper procedures. The designation of duties and the call meeting concerning a teacher should be conducted in the same manner as for pastors in Article I.C. above.

Section 230

Guidelines for the Circuit Visitors and Visitations

Article I: Membership and Election

(amended 2023 Synod Report, page 163)

The synod elects a visitor and an alternate visitor for each circuit. A visitor or alternate visitor must be a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod clergy roster and must be a member of an Evangelical Lutheran Synod congregation within their respective circuit. The term is three years. Any vacancy is filled by the president of the synod until the next regular convention.

Article II: Visitors' Relationship to the President of the Synod

(amended 2003 Synod Report, page 140)

(amended 2015 Synod Report, page 125)

- A. Since it is the president's duty to exercise supervision over the pastoral work within the synod and over the spiritual conditions in the congregations (see Bylaws of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Chapter III), the visitors shall serve as assistants to the president in his supervisory work.
- B. Since the visitors are responsible to the president of the synod, it is their duty to make a full report of all their activity as visitors to the president in March of each year. The president will, in turn, include a report of the visitor's activities in his report to the synod. No confidential information that might militate against Christian love or could in any way give offense should be included in these reports.

Circuit visitors should make a report to the president soon after each visit. When dealing with matters of unusual importance, it is essential that pastors, congregations, circuit visitors and synod officers prepare written minutes, notes or reports of the events that have taken place. Such events may include specific action, counsel or advice, charges, counter charges and defending statements. This is especially important when it is possible that there will be a repercussion. It is not possible to prepare guidelines that will define specific situations that do, and those that do not, require reports. Therefore, it behooves those involved to be alert to the necessity for keeping adequate records. These reports and notes should be kept in the confidential files of the president.

- C. The president of the synod shall arrange a workshop for the visitors each year, if possible, preferably in the fall of the year after new personnel may have been elected by the convention. The program for each meeting shall include a review of the synod's work on the circuit level as well as on the synodical level. The theme shall be: "Are you carrying out the work that the synod has resolved to do?" A review of the synod's guidelines shall be included, especially reflecting any amendments that were adopted at the most recent convention. The secretary of the synod shall serve as the secretary of the visitor's workshop.

Article III: The Duties of the Visitor

(amended 2004 Synod Report, page 148)

(amended 2011 Synod Report, page 126)

(amended 2018 Synod Report, page 159)

As assistants to the president, the visitors, under the president's supervision, shall:

- A. Encourage the congregations and pastors in their work.
- B. Disseminate information to the pastors and to the congregations concerning the joint work of the synod. This may be done at circuit meetings, congregational visitations, pastoral conferences or in other ways circumstances may suggest.
- C. Provide counsel to congregations and pastors in difficult cases.
- D. Provide counsel to pastors in his circuit who have received a call.
- E. Provide assistance to congregations in calling pastors.
  1. At the beginning of the call meeting, prior to any discussion of the specific call itself, the visitor should inform the congregation about the Scriptural basis of the call and its application to the congregation.
  2. The specific duties that the congregation wants the pastor or teacher to perform should be discussed and determined.
  3. The compensation that is to be offered to the called worker should be agreed upon. The Board for Home Outreach scale should be considered as a guide.

4. In cases where a congregation or parish is unable to meet the minimum mission salary and benefits scale (see Synod Reports as appropriate), the visitor may need to encourage the congregation or parish to seek alternative ways (consolidation, mergers, shared or joint services, etc.) to secure pastoral services at the respective location.
  5. The list of names suggested by the president and others added by the congregation should be discussed and, ultimately, one man chosen to be called.
- F. Conduct regular visitations in the congregations.
- G. Following an installation or ordination service, the circuit visitor shall be responsible for depositing with the archivist of the synod a copy of the program for the day and the vita of the installed pastor or teacher.
- H. When called upon, a circuit visitor shall fulfill his duties as required in Chapter VII, Paragraph 5 of the Bylaws of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod.

Article IV: Visitations

(amended 2015 Synod Report, page 125)

- A. Visitations are a useful and wholesome self-evaluation for a congregation. The blessed goals of a visitation are:
1. To promote harmony and unity within a congregation.
  2. To increase yet more the congregation's understanding of and commitment to the task of rescuing blood-bought souls.
  3. To increase the congregation's appreciation for its sister congregations and for the work they do together as a synod.
- B. Congregations should aim at having a visitation at least once every three years. The visitor should encourage the congregations to seek regular visitations by making them aware of the benefits of a visitation and by identifying the procedures to arrange a visitation.
- C. Congregations should take the initiative in arranging for a visitation. In cases where there is no invitation the visitor may take the initiative and ascertain from the congregation whether a visitation is agreeable. If so, a date for a visitation may be set and plans made. The president of the synod will conduct or arrange for a visitation in the visitor's congregation.
- D. For maximum benefit from a visitation, a congregation should evaluate its work prior to the visitor's arrival. In particular the congregation may benefit from the consideration of:
1. Its goals and objectives, particularly as set forth in its constitution, bylaws and other statements.
  2. Its strengths and weaknesses.
  3. Its needs.
- E. In the conducting of a visitation the following suggestions are offered:
1. That the visitor attend, if possible, one of the regular church services or ask the pastor to submit to him a few sermon manuscripts. The visitor may arrange for a meeting with the elders of the congregation for private consultation if this is desired. Such meetings shall be publicly announced in advance.
  2. That the visitor report to the congregation on the doctrinal, missionary, and educational work of the synod. He should be prepared to answer questions about any phase of the synodical work and finances. If he is not able to provide the requested information at the moment, he should later supply the information.
  3. That the visitation give attention to the matters
    - a. Of preaching and teaching: whether the pastor rightly divides the Word of Truth (Law and Gospel); whether he teaches the Gospel of salvation in its truth and purity and duly warns against existing false doctrines; whether he properly correlates doctrine with life and whether he uses simple, clear and unmistakable language.
    - b. Of formal Christian education: whether all possible avenues of instruction are used, such as Christian Day Schools, Sunday Schools, Vacation Bible Schools, Bible classes, and confirmation classes; whether the catechumens, children and adults, are thoroughly instructed in Luther's Small Catechism; whether they understand the meaning and are able to cite proof-texts from the Bible to show the catechism's agreement with the Scripture.
    - c. Of services: whether proper liturgical forms and ceremonies are being used; whether services are regularly held at an advantageous time.
    - d. Of records: whether the church books and official lists of the congregation are well kept.

- e. Of encroaching sects: whether troublesome sects (cults) or secret societies or other anti-Christian philosophies or trends are found in the area, and what is being done to guard the members against the evil influence of such.
  - f. In general: attention should be given also to such matters as attendance at church, attendance at communion, and attendance at voters' meetings, pastoral visiting, evangelical church discipline, Christian giving, personal mission work, participation of the congregation in the work of the church at large, adequate salaries for pastors and teachers, Bible reading, family devotions, bringing up children in the home in a Christian manner, the kind of reading material and religious books found in the homes, reading the church papers, announcement for communion, care of the youth after confirmation.
- F. The visitor will be careful that he does not conduct himself in an officious manner, but will at all times diligently seek to be truly evangelical and show that he is present to give encouragement and help.
- G. As far as the pastor himself is concerned, the visitor shall, in a manner becoming a brother, speak with him as to his own spiritual life and his studies. To that end the visitor should try to spend some time with the pastor in his study. At such time he may also examine sermon manuscripts, discuss the method of sermon preparation and the selection of sermon texts, examine and discuss the keeping of church record books, examine and discuss the instruction materials used in Sunday School and confirmation classes and examine the pastor's library. He should also spend time with the pastor and his family in their home.
- H. Expenses for the visitor, such as for travel, meals, lodging and substitute speaker shall be paid by the visited congregation but, if necessary, shall be paid from the Synod Fund as determined by the Board of Trustees.

  2. The primary work of the convention committee is to review and assess the work of the standing board or committee.
    - a. The committee shall determine the resource people it wishes to invite (standing board members, officers, memorial sponsors, etc.).
    - b. The committee should consider whether there are any discrepancies in the report insofar as the duties of the standing board are concerned and, if necessary, so report.
    - c. The committee may consider other suggestions for the standing board and make recommendations for studies or research by the Synod Review Committee or another committee. It may recommend development of guideline changes that would be reviewed at a future convention.

3. Any recommendation concerning changes in the budget of a committee to be enacted at the current convention must be submitted to the convention Committee on Finance (see Guidelines for the Planning and Coordinating Committee, Article IV.A.2.a.).
  4. The guidelines in Article I.E. are to be printed annually in the convention materials.
- F. All convention committee reports should, if possible, be duplicated and distributed prior to the close of the session previous to the session in which the report is to be acted upon.

Article II: Scheduling of Convention Business

(amended 2014 Synod Report, page 128)

Inasmuch as the specific business varies from convention to convention, the president and the secretary are authorized to use their judgment in preparation of the appropriate agenda for each convention. Specific elements that will be included in each agenda are:

1. Devotion
2. A communion service.
3. Essay (doctrine or other aspects of synod responsibility).
4. President's message and report.
5. Elections
6. Reports of boards and committees and subsequent recommendations or action as the convention determines.

Article IV: Reports and Memorials to the Convention

(amended 2004 Synod Report, page 148)

(amended 2006 Synod Report, page 168)

- A. Memorials are recommendations in the form of proposed resolutions requesting action on the part of a convention, which originate from a source other than standing boards and committees of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod. Questions concerned with the work or jurisdiction of a specific board or committee should be sent to it.
- B. All permanent boards and committees are required to submit annual reports to the synod for inclusion in the convention Book of Reports and Memorials. The recommendation for any resolutions, actions or studies that the board or committee wishes the convention to adopt should be included in that report.
- C. Memorials adopted by a congregation and certified by the pastor and the congregation secretary will be accepted and published in the Book of Reports and Memorials. In special circumstances where it is not possible to submit a memorial through a congregation, a memorial will be accepted from an individual clergyman who is a permanent member (listed on the clergy roster) if it is concerned with a doctrinal matter and is so certified by the synod president. The special circumstances should be identified.
- D. Because it is in the best interests of a properly ordered convention that all available information be thoroughly studied by the pastors and delegates in advance of the convention, it is necessary for publication in the Book of Reports and Memorials that all reports and memorials be in the hands of the president and secretary of the convention at least three months before the opening date of the convention. Any memorial received after the publication of the Book of Reports and Memorials or the Convention Handbook shall be presented in written form to the president of the synod who will bring it before the convention to determine whether to place it on the agenda.

Article V: Synod Budget Adoption by the Convention

(adopted 2016 Synod Report, page 149)

See Guidelines for the Planning and Coordinating Committee, Article IV

Article VI: Advisory Members of the Synod Convention

Lay members of the permanent boards and committees of the synod who are in attendance at the regular conventions of the synod may be seated as advisory members by the convention (having the right to speak on the floor of the convention). Such lay members shall advise the Credentials Committee of their presence.

Article VII: Election Procedures
See General Synodical Guidelines, Article V

Article VIII: Election of Officers

- A. In the years in which officers are elected, the session after morning recess of the second working day of the convention, following the first report of the convention committee on Synodical Membership, is to be set aside for the election of the synod's officers.
- B. For each of the three officers of the synod a nominating ballot shall be followed by as many election ballots as necessary for election. (see Bylaws of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Chapter IV, Paragraph 1 and Paragraph 3)
- C. Once balloting for an office has begun, the convention shall remain in session without interruption until the office has been filled.

Article IX: Committee on Nominations

(amended 2003 Synod Report, page 139)
(amended 2005 Synod Report, page 130)
(amended 2006 Synod Report, page 127)
(amended 2015 Synod Report, page 123)
(amended 2018 Synod Report, pages 159–160)
(amended 2023 Synod Report, page 163)

- A. Election of the Committee on Nominations
  - 1. The convention shall nominate and elect a committee on nominations of eight members, four laymen and four clergymen, who shall serve for the next year's convention.
  - 2. No member of a board or committee whose term expires at the next annual convention shall be a member of the committee.
  - 3. No member of the Committee on Nominations shall succeed himself.
  - 4. Members ineligible to serve on the Committee on Nominations shall be listed in the Convention Handbook.
  - 5. No officer or employee of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod shall serve on the Committee on Nominations.
  - 6. The secretary of the synod shall make arrangements for the first meeting of the committee.
- B. Duties of the Committee on Nominations
  - 1. At least two candidates shall be nominated for each board or committee position that will become vacant at the next convention of the synod. Nominees who have lost an election to a particular board or committee shall not automatically be nominated by the Committee on Nominations to a subsequent position on the same board or committee, but they may be nominated from the floor of the convention for another position on the same board or committee.
    - a. The committee is not obligated to nominate an incumbent to continue his present position on a board or committee. However, the committee should consider whether that person has been suggested for nomination for re-election, the experience and continuity of service that he brings to the office and his ability to continue effective service.
    - b. Names of potential candidates may be solicited from congregations of the synod, from circuit visitors, from chairmen of standing boards and committees, from synodical officers and from other sources. The committee may seek input from the standing boards and committees about the skills and expertise needed for their work.
    - c. Nominees must be permanent synod members or active members of an ELS congregation.
    - d. Ordinarily, no person should serve on more than one synod board or committee.
  - 2. The slate, including the qualifications of each candidate, and their biographical sketches, shall be submitted to the secretary of the synod for publication in the Book of Reports and Memorials. The biographical sketch should include education and service that may be relevant to the office for which the candidate has been nominated, his home congregation, the number of years as a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, the age of the nominee, and the number of current consecutive terms that a nominated incumbent has held that office.
  - 3. Board members for the Board for Lutheran Schools: The voting members will consist of nine men: three will be clergy, two will be male teachers in ELS Schools, three will be laymen and one may represent any of these categories. Those serving as teacher representatives must have successfully completed the Evangelical Lutheran Synod Teacher Certification requirements. The committee will give strong consideration to qualifications and to regional representation from throughout the synod. (See Guidelines for the Board for Lutheran Schools, Article III.B.)

- C. Expenses for this committee shall be budgeted in the Synod Fund.

Section 242

Guidelines for the General Pastoral Conference

(adopted 2006 Synod Report, page 168)

Article I: Purpose

The clergy of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod shoulder an important responsibility. In order to assist them with this responsibility, it is good for all the clergy to gather annually to build each other up (1 Thessalonians 5:11), to learn from each other, and to be informed of events in the synod and in the church at large.

Article II: Membership and Organization

- A. The general pastoral conference shall consist of all clergy listed on the clergy roster of the synod (see Guidelines for the Clergy Roster).
- B. The conference shall organize itself as it deems appropriate, including the election of a chairman and secretary.
  - 1. The chairman shall have such duties as are usual to that office and as the conference and these guidelines may require.
  - 2. The duties of the secretary are defined in the General Synodical Guidelines, Article III.C., and in these guidelines.
- C. The conference shall normally meet annually, at a site and date set by the conference.

Article III: Duties

(amended 2012 Synod Report, page 142)

- A. The conference shall hear papers and presentations pertaining to various aspects of theology, especially those which would prove helpful to those serving in the pastoral office.
- B. It shall consider matters, especially doctrinal, that are under discussion by the synod in convention.
- C. The conference shall hear presentations concerning various aspects of the work of the synod, especially from the synod president, the presidents of Bethany Lutheran College and Bethany Lutheran Theological Seminary, and other full-time synodical officials as needed.
- D. The conference shall, when appropriate, make recommendations to the synod concerning actions or decisions the conference deems appropriate.

Section 245

Guidelines for Equalization of Expenses for the Annual Convention and General Pastoral Conferences of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod

Article I: Guidelines for the Equalization Committee

The Equalization Committee is to solicit and administer the Pastors' and Laymen's Equalization Funds. These funds are to help defray the expenses of lay delegates, pastors and qualifying persons who attend the synod convention and the general pastoral conference.

- A. Membership
  - 1. The committee shall consist of three (3) members: one clergyman (who shall be the equalizer for the clergy) and two (2) laymen (who shall be the equalizers for the lay delegates).
  - 2. The members shall be elected by the synod for three-year terms, one each year. Elections are held according to the rules established for elected offices of the synod.
- B. Duties
  - 1. Request funds and disburse them to qualifying persons who attend the Evangelical Lutheran Synod convention and the General Pastoral Conference. (See Article II)
  - 2. Solicit funds from congregations and disburse them to the synod lay delegates for their travel expense. (See Article III)

Article II: Rules for Equalization for Pastors and Male Teachers

- A. Eligibility
  - 1. The following shall be included in equalization for both the convention and the conference:
    - a. Pastors serving member congregations.
    - b. Pastors serving non-member congregations.
    - c. Pastors serving home mission stations.
    - d. Theologically trained professors in educational institutions of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod.
  - 2. If they request, the following may be included in equalization for both the convention and the conference:
    - a. Vicars
    - b. Pastors Emeriti
    - c. Professors Emeriti
    - d. Inactive clergy included on the Evangelical Lutheran Synod clergy roster.
    - e. Ordained clergymen who are members of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod and are in an educational or institutional ministry of our fellowship.
    - f. Exception: Male teachers serving schools of member congregations shall be included for the convention only.
- B. Payment
  - 1. Each congregation is expected to pay the equalization for its pastor(s) and male teacher(s). All clergymen, whether present or not, are to be included in the equalization unless exempted by Article II.A.2, or by a separate valid excuse submitted in writing to, and accepted by, the synod's president.
  - 2. The synod shall pay:
    - a. The equalization for foreign missionaries when on furlough, serving under the call of the Board for World Outreach, in attendance at either the convention or conference. Their equalization expenses shall be paid from the Foreign Mission budget of the synod.
    - b. Equalization for home missionaries serving preaching stations and exploratory missions shall be paid from the Board for Home Outreach budget.
    - c. Registration, equalization, lodging and meals for retired pastors who attend the convention or the conference or both. (see Guidelines for the Board of Trustees, Article III.F.)

- (1) Per diem for lodging and meals for retired pastors who attend the convention or the conference or both.
- (2) Reimbursement rate shall be established by the Board of Trustees.
3. Institutions shall pay:
  - a. The cost of registration and equalization of all theologically trained professors.
  - b. Registration, equalization, lodging and meals for retired professors to the convention and the conference.
4. Subscription fees for the Lutheran Synod Quarterly shall be included in the pastoral conference equalization.
5. Clergymen and male teachers serving as delegates to the convention shall be included under laymen's equalization.
6. Because all clergymen of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod are to be in attendance at conventions and conferences, the equalizer shall write to all active pastors not in attendance requesting equalization payment from them.

Article III: Laymen's Equalization Rules and Procedures

- A. Duties of the Lay Equalizers:
  1. One layman shall serve as chairman, and the second layman as vice chairman.
  2. The chairman is responsible for handling receipts and disbursements of the fund.
  3. The vice chairman will act as advisor and administer the funds only in the absence of the chairman.
  4. The chairman and vice chairman have the authority and responsibility to make expenditures from the fund for necessary operating expenses.
  5. An annual report of the fund listing receipts and disbursements shall be submitted to the synod convention; this report is to be prepared by the chairman and reviewed by the vice chairman.
  6. If needed, meetings are scheduled at the discretion of the chairman.
- B. Remittance of Payment: All synod congregations are requested to send their remittances according to the assessment determined by the chairman of this committee by May 15th, or sooner, if possible.
- C. Disbursements
  1. Only those delegates whose congregations remit to this fund will receive equalization from it.
  2. Delegates must register at the convention showing name, congregation, round-trip mileage, and/or travel expenses in order to receive reimbursement.
  3. The chairman will be reimbursed according to the rules for delegates' equalization.

Article IV: Formula For Laymen's Equalization Assessment

- A. In order to share, between congregations of various sized communicant memberships, the costs of transportation for laymen to attend the conventions of the synod, a formula is established which allocates the congregations to nine categories.
  1. The estimated amount needed to finance the transportation costs is divided by the number of congregations.
  2. This average amount is to be paid by those congregations in the middle (fifth) category.
  3. The average amount is then divided by the remaining categories (eight).
  4. This factor is then used to step down the average cost for the congregations in the four categories smaller than the middle category, and to step up the costs in the four categories that are larger than the middle category.
- B. The following example is provided:
  1. If the amount needed is $23,000, then divide this amount by the number of congregations in the synod (136 in the 1998 Synod Report).
  2. The amount is $170; this amount is to be paid by those congregations in the middle category.
  3. Then divide the $170 by eight (the number of remaining categories); this figure is $21.
  4. To calculate the four category amounts less than $170, subtract $21 from $170 four times.
  5. Then add $21 four times to $170 to find the four category amounts above this middle figure.
  6. Each category amount is then multiplied by 15 or 16. These numbers are derived from the 136 congregations divided by the nine categories. The result is 15.1111. Eight categories have 15 congregations in each and one has 16.

7. The congregations selected for each category are found by listing the congregations according to communicant membership, from the smallest to the largest. Congregations 1 to 15 (the smallest ones) will be in the first category and will each pay $86 equalization. The next 15 will pay $107 and so on.

8. The following schedule will result:

$$$86 \times 15 = $1,290$$

$$$107 \times 15 = $1,605$$

$$$128 \times 15 = $1,920$$

$$$149 \times 15 = $2,235$$

$$$170 \times 16 = $2,720$$

$$$191 \times 15 = $2,865$$

$$$212 \times 15 = $3,180$$

$$$233 \times 15 = $3,495$$

$$$254 \times 15 = $3,810$$

$$\text{Total amount } $23,120$$

In general the smaller congregations will pay as little as $86 and the largest will pay $254.

Section 250

Guidelines for Adopting Doctrinal Statements

(adopted 2008 Synod Report, pages 143–145)

The 2006 convention adopted the Synod Review Committee's proposed changes to the "Guidelines for the Colloquy Committee" (Guidelines for the Colloquy Committee). The first article reads:

The Evangelical Lutheran Synod conducts a colloquy because it is imperative that all clergymen who are members of the synod must accept the doctrines of Holy Scripture, and the confessions of the Lutheran Church set forth in the Book of Concord of 1580. The synod expresses its doctrinal positions on various issues through doctrinal resolutions and statements, as well as in its constitution, and requires those who join the synod to be in agreement with that doctrinal position.

When the synod takes the serious action of adopting a doctrinal statement, it does so with the full understanding that formulating statements on doctrine and assenting to them (which we do by vote) is in keeping with Scripture and the Lutheran Confessions (1 Peter 3:15; 2 Corinthians 4:13; John 8:31, 32; Formula of Concord – Solid Declaration, Rule and Norm; Apology of the Augsburg Confession, Article IV, 193). Adherence to Scripture and the Lutheran Confessions always remains of paramount concern for the synod. Issues, however, arise from time to time on matters not fully addressed in the Book of Concord. In order to resolve a disagreement on issues, the synod may decide to develop and eventually adopt doctrinal statements.

While the Evangelical Lutheran Synod does not establish doctrine on the basis of a vote, it is often necessary to establish agreement by vote on what the Word of God teaches, and to accept or reject statements of such agreement by a vote. It is recognized that absolute unanimity (100% of the vote that is cast) on the wording of a document is unlikely. These guidelines have been developed to help the synod achieve a greater consensus before the document is voted on by the synod.

Article I: Determining the Need for a Statement

(amended 2019 Synod Report, page 131)

(amended 2021 Synod Report, page 188)

The synod in convention shall determine that work should begin on a doctrinal statement on the basis of one of the following:

- A. Properly submitted memorials may include a recommendation that the synod begin work on a doctrinal statement (see Convention Guidelines, Article IV.C); or
- B. The Doctrine Committee, in consultation with the synod president and vice president, may include in its report to the convention a recommendation for work to begin on a statement; or
- C. The synod president in consultation with the vice president may bring items to the attention of the convention with the recommendation that the synod begin work on a statement; or
- D. When the officers of the synod and the Doctrine Committee determine that a doctrinal issue needs immediate public clarification and that it is not an issue of controversy within the synod, but has not been clearly stated earlier in synod publications, a statement may be presented to the synod for adoption.
- E. The definitions of the terms:
  1. Position Statement—A statement on a topic over which there is no internal controversy, adopted by the synod, that summarizes biblical teachings to provide a clear confession to the outside world (see Guidelines for Adopting Doctrinal Statements, Article I.D). Such statements may be used in colloquies and for other official actions.
  2. Doctrinal Statement—A statement adopted by the synod in response to a controversy in the synod which summarizes for the congregations of the synod biblical teaching that provides a clear confession of what Scripture teaches (see Guidelines for Adopting Doctrinal Statements). Such statements shall be used in colloquies and for other official actions.

Article II: Role of the General Pastoral Conference

At the request of the convention, the Program Committee of the General Pastoral Conference shall arrange for various papers to be presented that would address the doctrinal issue at hand. Ample discussion time, as defined by the conference itself, should be included on the agenda. In connection with the issue the conference should then report directly to the convention a summary of the papers and the discussions. More than one General Pastoral Conference would likely be necessary to provide enough opportunity for differing viewpoints to be addressed.

Article III: Lay Involvement

Following the preparation of the report by the General Pastoral Conference, special forums should be held throughout the synod's circuits where practicable, and arranged through the office of the synod president and circuit visitors. Here the laity should be informed by providing them with materials representing differing views on the issue. Input from these conferences should be recorded and forwarded to the synod's elected Doctrine Committee. In addition, the pastors are urged to present the material on the proposed statement in a Bible class or other format for their congregation(s).

Article IV: Preparation of a Statement

- A. When the convention determines that a statement should be prepared, the president shall normally assign the task to the Doctrine Committee. The convention may determine that the preparation of a statement should be made by another committee. The statement should be prepared with the input from the General Pastoral Conference, from the lay circuit meetings and from the congregational discussions. The committee should have access to all of the information that has been discussed in the several venues. (Guidelines for the Doctrine Committee, Article II.A to B)
- B. When the committee has completed its statement, the statement should be submitted to the circuit conferences and to the General Pastoral Conference.
- C. On the basis of the input from the conferences, the committee should prepare the statement or set of theses for the convention. In its report the committee should also include a summary of the controversy, an explanation of the need for a statement, and the rationale used for compiling the statement.

Article V: Convention Involvement and Action

- A. The convention will determine whether there appears to be enough consensus in the synod to adopt the statement proposed. The normal course would be that, following the Doctrine Committee's report to the convention, at least one more year would be devoted to further study before the proposed statement is presented for final adoption. Within that year, any necessary editing of the statement may occur (e.g., as suggested by the General Pastoral Conference) and then be reflected in the Doctrine Committee's next report to the synod.
- B. The proposed statement will be read at two consecutive conventions. After the reading at the second convention, a vote shall be taken, unless the convention determines otherwise.
  - 1. The first reading will be followed by discussion. The statement may be amended by a simple majority vote at that time. At the end of the floor discussion, the matter is automatically continued, as amended, until the next convention.
  - 2. The reading at the second consecutive convention will be followed by further discussion. The statement may be amended at this time by a simple majority, provided the proposed amendment has been submitted to the president as a memorial and included in the Book of Reports and Memorials or the Convention Handbook. If a proposed amendment revises the intended meaning of the proposed statement, it may be ruled by the president to be a substitute motion. If the convention adopts the substitute motion, the convention may determine that the reading at this time is the first reading of a revised statement, and no vote will be taken, but the motion will be continued to the next convention.
  - 3. To adopt the statement, the votes in favor of the adoption must be at least two-thirds of those cast on the question unless a different percentage has already been established at the time of the first reading. If the statement is now adopted, it becomes effective immediately, unless a different time has been stated in the resolution. If the approving votes are not sufficient to adopt the statement, the convention may refer it to the Doctrine Committee or the General Pastoral Conference or both.
- C. Only the synod in convention has the authority to decide the appropriate time for the final adoption of a doctrinal statement. It alone also retains the right to set aside the normal procedures here outlined.

Section 252

Guidelines for Overseas Fellowship

(adopted 2022 Synod Report, pages 153–154)

Article I: Establishing a Due Diligence Panel

- A. Organization
  - 1. With the rise of social media and in this age of technology and communication, many various church groups are contacting ELS member churches resulting in an increase in requests for fellowship and/or partnership in the work of the gospel.
  - 2. When future requests for partnership, fellowship, or an assistance relationship pass the Preliminary Stage (see Article II.A. below), the synod president shall form a due diligence panel.
- B. Members of the due diligence panel:
The due diligence panel shall consist of at least the following individuals:
  - 1. The synod president (Bylaws Chapter VII.Paragraph 1.h).
  - 2. A representative from the Doctrine Committee (Guidelines for the Doctrine Committee Article II.B and E).
- 3. The Administrator of the Board for World Outreach (Guidelines for the Board for World Outreach Article IV.B.5 and C.1, 3, 4, 5).
  - 4. The president of Bethany Lutheran Theological Seminary.
  - 5. The panel shall elect a chairman and secretary from its members. The duties of the secretary are defined in the General Synodical Guidelines, Article III.C.

Article II: The Duties of the Panel

The aforementioned panel shall follow the four-stage process in an evangelical spirit:

- A. Preliminary Stage—This stage involves fielding the request and initial vetting by the administrator of the Board for World Outreach and/or the president of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod (ELS). This is a filtering process with the hope and prayer that we will have new like-minded partners in gospel ministry. In the interest of coordinating efforts, any decision to proceed will be thoroughly documented and will be communicated to the president of the Confessional Evangelical Lutheran Conference (CELC).
- B. Stage One—Simple Confession of Faith: In this stage the panel begins its work using three questionnaires to facilitate discussions with the top leaders of the church body. The questionnaires are focused on basic information, basic law and gospel questions, and doctrinal questions based on Luther's Small Catechism. Progress is well documented and shared with the chairman of the regional Confessional Evangelical Lutheran Conference.
- C. Stage Two—Lutheran Confessions: In this stage, a review is done by the panel using a series of questions about the Bible's teachings. Additionally, reviews of doctrinal statements and their constitution are completed. Meetings in this stage should take place with as many pastors and lay leaders as possible. Progress is documented and shared as above.
- D. Stage Three—Doctrine and Practice: This stage includes a questionnaire as well as a review of worship services, sermons, liturgy, teaching materials, publications, etc. Meetings in this stage should take place with leaders, pastors and church members. Progress is documented and shared as above.
- E. Stage Four—Formal Declaration: In this stage an updated doctrinal statement and constitution are received as well as an official request of the church body. Upon successful review, communicate to the Confessional Evangelical Lutheran Conference the desire of both sides to declare fellowship and take steps to join and participate in the Confessional Evangelical Lutheran Conference, and pass a formal declaration of fellowship at an Evangelical Lutheran Synod convention.

Article III: Facilitating the Work of the Panel

- A. At any point in this process or at several points in this process, as a component of any of these stages or between any of these stages, the panel may, as needed, carry out or facilitate workshops, seminars, conferences, or special classes, online or in person, with the pastors or leaders of a church body that has approached the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, to help them strengthen and clarify their understanding of and commitment to Confessional Lutheran doctrine and practice.

- B. While such discussions are underway to determine whether there is doctrinal agreement, no other programs or assistance (other than the aforementioned workshops, seminars, conferences, or special classes, and humanitarian aid when and where appropriate) will ordinarily be provided.
- C. After, and only after, the synod declares fellowship with a church body, the synod shall determine whether assistance and support shall be extended to the church body taking into consideration the role the synod has already assigned to the Board for World Outreach in like circumstances.
- D. When the synod convention resolves to establish fellowship with another church body, the panel's work is officially ended.
- E. When fellowship is established, the documents of the panel's proceedings shall be filed with the synod president and with the chairman of the Board for World Outreach. Where a request for fellowship is denied, the documents of the panel's proceedings shall be stored at the ELS archives, with a fifty-year restriction on access, except when the synod president authorizes such access.

Section 260

Guidelines for Synodical Discipline and Appeals

(amended 2008 Synod Report, pages 148–150)

Involuntary termination of membership in the synod is a serious matter which must be preceded by substantial deliberation. Rejection of the doctrinal standard of the synod and disavowal of the constitution and its bylaws that have been approved by the synod membership in convention are serious concerns. Prayerful advice, encouragement and admonition must be employed to open the hearts of all concerned. If the differences with the synod cannot be resolved, then termination of membership must be considered. But always the salvation of souls must be of central concern. If a member of the synod publicly disavows the doctrinal standard and the corresponding practice of the synod, he has, in effect, removed himself from membership in the synod, but the matter must be dealt with according to an orderly process.

In these guidelines, the synod, acting through its officers, may suspend a member (congregation or pastor) if, after due admonition, the member persists in teaching or acting contrary to the synod's confessional standard or persists without repentance in an immoral action or behavior. In certain cases, a substantiated public immoral action may require immediate dismissal from permanent membership, even when repentance properly and thankfully enables the individual to retain communicant membership in a congregation. The public ministry is not to be blamed (1 Timothy 3:1ff.).

Until such time as a member is suspended, the member is considered to be a member in good standing. When a suspension has been announced, the member may either accept the suspension or appeal it. If the member does not appeal the suspension, then the member has been expelled from the synod and forfeits all rights and privileges of membership. Upon the expulsion being reported by the president to the synod in convention, the member is removed formally from membership in the synod.

If the member appeals the suspension, the matter enters the appeals process (which see), and while the appeal is being considered, the privileges of membership and church fellowship are held in abeyance. In the case of a pastor serving a congregation, the president in consultation with the vice president and the congregation(s) affected, shall determine whether or not it is proper for the pastor to continue serving his congregation while the appeal is in process. If the appeal fails, the suspension becomes expulsion, and when the findings of the commission on the appeal have been reported to the synod, the member is removed from membership.

Article I: General Cases

(amended 2014 Synod Report, page 129)

When a pastor or teacher of the synod is charged with adhering to false doctrine, unscriptural practice, living an ungodly life or neglecting his duty and, after the local congregation, in matters which properly fall within its jurisdiction, has dealt with this matter on the basis of Scripture and according to its constitution and has not been able to reach a God-pleasing resolution of the matter, the following guidelines apply:

- A. In cases of discipline involving pastors or teachers who hold membership in the synod, the circuit visitor has original jurisdiction. He shall hear the case and render a decision on the basis of Scripture.
- B. If after due admonition the visitor's decision is not accepted he shall report and review the case in consultation with the president of the synod. The president shall arrange for a review with the visitor and the party(ies) concerned
- C. If the president finds a visitor's decision to be in keeping with Scripture, he shall urge the acceptance of said decision.
- D. If after due admonition the president's counsel is not accepted, he shall appoint a review committee of five members (three clergy and two lay). The chairman of the committee shall be designated by the president. The committee shall investigate the charges and decisions and, on the basis of its findings, make recommendation to the president.
- E. If further action is necessary, the president, together with the circuit visitor and the review committee, shall again attempt to bring about a resolution of the problem.
- F. In special and urgent cases where no resolution is reached, the president shall exercise the power of suspension from synodical membership. His written communication suspending membership shall include specific reasons for the suspension and shall be sent by certified mail. He shall report the suspension to the convention.
- G. The suspended party has the right to appeal the decision. This appeal shall be addressed to the Board of Trustees through its secretary. An appeal must be received by the secretary within sixty days of the date of suspension. (see Article V.)

- H. In the case of a congregation the same procedure shall be followed.

Article II: Board for Home Outreach

*(see Guidelines for the Board for Home Outreach, Article IX)
(amended 2014 Synod Report, page 129)*

- A. In cases of discipline involving missionaries, teachers and mission stations under the jurisdiction of the Board for Home Outreach, the board shall exercise original jurisdiction. It shall hear the case and render a decision on the basis of Scripture.
- B. If, after due admonition, the board's decision is not accepted, it shall arrange for a review together with the circuit visitor and the party(ies) concerned and shall render a decision on the basis of Scripture.
- C. If after due admonition by the board and the circuit visitor the decision is not accepted, they shall report the case to the president of the synod. The president shall arrange for a review with the board, the visitor and the party(ies) concerned.
- D. If the president finds the decision of the board and the visitor to be in keeping with Scripture, he shall urge acceptance of said decision.
- E. In special and urgent cases where no resolution is reached, the president shall exercise the power of suspension from synodical membership. His written communication suspending membership shall include specific reasons for the suspension and shall be sent by certified mail. He shall report the suspension to the convention.
- F. The suspended party has the right to appeal the decision. This appeal shall be addressed to the Board of Trustees through its secretary. (cf. Guidelines for the Board of Trustees of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Article X)

Preamble

The Board of Trustees govern Bethany Lutheran College and Seminary with respect to the property. All other matters of trusteeship and governance are assigned to the regents.

- A. The Board of Trustees, serving as the agent of the synod in financial transactions, has the responsibility and authority to make the final decision on all building projects, land purchases and those capital improvements which exceed an agreed upon and reviewable dollar amount (see C, 4 below) affecting the institutions of Bethany Lutheran College and Bethany Lutheran Theological Seminary (see The Constitution of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Chapter V, Paragraph 1; and Articles of Incorporation of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Article VIII).
- B. The Board of Regents and Board of Trustees shall endeavor to hold at least one joint meeting each year for the purpose of joint planning and communication. Under unusual circumstances, during the joint Regents/Trustees meeting, the Board of Trustees may take action on a given proposal.
- C. The Board of Regents and the Board of Trustees shall establish a joint subcommittee (Regents–Trustees Subcommittee). The purpose of the subcommittee is to provide a vehicle for communications between the Board of Regents and the Board of Trustees in all matters pertaining to the operation and planning for Bethany Lutheran College and Bethany Lutheran Theological Seminary, especially, but not limited to, those matters involving land purchases, building projects and capital expenditures in support of the development of the institutions. The subcommittee is expected to meet on an as needed basis.
  - 1. The subcommittee shall consist of three members from each board, with the president of the synod and the chairman of the Board of Regents serving in an advisory capacity. It shall organize itself, including the election of a chairman and a secretary. These officers shall be elected each year. The chairman and the secretary shall not be representatives of the same board.

The Board of Trustees shall make the final decision.
  5. Building project recommendations from the joint subcommittee to the Board of Trustees shall include the total ("all-in") cost and an updated report on the impact the new project will have on the debt load for the respective educational institution and for the synod.

The Board of Regents also sets the priorities for capital improvements for the institutions. It also will be responsible for including any new capital projects in its respective reports (college and seminary) to the next annual synod convention.
- G. Any land or building sale proposed by the Board of Regents must be approved by the Board of Trustees (see Guidelines for the Board of Trustees of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Article III, A, 1).

Section 414

Guidelines for Bethany Lutheran College

(adopted 2017 Synod Report, page 157–159)

Article I: Mission, Philosophy and Objectives

- A. Introduction: Bethany Lutheran College is a Christian liberal arts college owned and operated by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod and committed to the teachings of the Bible as expressed in the statements of faith known as the Lutheran Confessions. The college also functions as the synod's visible center and exists to provide all appropriate services to the synod that can be expected from such a reservoir of skills and talents associated with a capable institution of higher learning.
- B. Mission: Bethany Lutheran College provides Christian higher education in a challenging academic environment where personal mentoring guides students to pursue knowledge, truth, and discernment for productive and fulfilling lives.
- C. Purpose: Bethany Lutheran College engages students with the saving knowledge of Christ and assists them in developing their God-given talents and abilities for meaningful lives of service in the family, church, and society. A program of study grounded in the liberal arts and taught through the discerning lens of a Christian worldview equips students with knowledge, understanding, and adaptable skills.
- D. Statement of Faith: Bethany Lutheran College is a Christian liberal arts college. The college and the Evangelical Lutheran Synod are committed to the teachings of the Bible as the inerrant Word of God—the only authority for faith and life. The statements of faith known as the Lutheran Confessions are accepted as the correct understanding of the teachings of the Bible.
This commitment to the Confessions is summarized by the principles of the Lutheran Reformation: Grace Alone, Faith Alone, and Scripture Alone. Specifically, the college confesses that salvation is a free gift from God's grace alone, not dependent upon our works. We receive forgiveness for our sins through faith in Christ alone, which is produced in the individual's heart by the Holy Spirit through the Word of God and the Sacraments. Scripture alone is the standard by which all teachings and practices ultimately are evaluated.
- E. Philosophy of Christian Education: The Christian faith governs the entire educational process at Bethany. Christian education implies a unique perspective on the past, present, and future, shaping a specific view of people and their relationships both to God and to others. These relationships are understood in light of the knowledge that Jesus Christ is the Savior of the world, and that He is true God and Lord of the universe through time and eternity. Bethany's philosophy views knowledge and truth across the entire curriculum through the discerning lens of God's Word.

      - (2) to impart the principles of evangelical pastoral theology and counseling and methods of preaching and teaching;
      - (3) to serve God's people as a shepherd of the flock ("Therefore take heed to yourselves and to all the flock, among which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to shepherd the church of God which He purchased with His own blood." Acts 20:28, NKJV);
      - (4) to prepare God's people for service and the work of the ministry ("And He Himself gave some to be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers, for the equipping of the saints for the work of ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ." Ephesians 4:11–12, NKJV);
      - (5) to lead his members to cooperate with fellow believers in sister congregations in the work of the church at large;

Go therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the age.'" Matthew 28:18–20, NKJV);
      - (7) to impart a proper understanding and practice of the ethical and brotherly relationships and responsibilities toward the brethren in the synod with whom they have joined forces in order the better to carry out the Great Commission of our Lord.

Section 422

Guidelines for the Board for Lutheran Schools

(adopted 2015 Synod Report, page 119)
(amended 2018 Synod Report, pages 160–161)

Preamble

In 2006 the Evangelical Lutheran Synod established and incorporated Lutheran Schools of America, Inc. (Synod Report, 2006, Resolution 2, pp. 127, 147–156). This organization exists to promote classical Christian education, to support the opening of new schools, and to assist congregations in their education programs. (See Restated Articles of Incorporation of the Lutheran Schools of America, Inc. and Bylaws of the Lutheran Schools of America). In 2015, the synod established a Board for Lutheran Schools (Synod Report, 2015, Resolution 4, p. 128) to promote Christian education in the synod's schools and to administer its educational work.

Both the traditional model and the classical model of Christian education have as primary goals that each student grow in the knowledge and faith of their Lord and Savior through teaching the Scriptures and training them in the use of that knowledge. The Board for Lutheran Schools assists the synod's schools in implementing these goals.

All monies given for Christian education to the synod (Lutheran Schools of America, Inc., or otherwise) shall be used for the support of Lutheran schools in the synod.

Article I: Policy

Honoring the Lord's direction to "Feed My lambs" (John 21:15) and His specific direction concerning the instruction of young people, "Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them, for of such is the kingdom of heaven" (Matthew 19:14), the Evangelical Lutheran Synod promotes Christian education to give young people a knowledge of God's Word in addition to teaching secular subjects. The synod's Christian schools exist to promote the mission of the Christian Church through providing well-trained youth. These Lutheran schools must teach the certainty of salvation through the life, death and resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ because "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge" (Proverbs 1:7). (See further, Article II.)

Article II: Objectives

The objectives of the Board for Lutheran Schools are:

- A. To promote the cause of Christian education for the glory of God's kingdom, for the welfare of the synod's congregations and for the nation.
- B. To assist parents with their God-given vocation through nurturing the spiritual, intellectual, social, and physical growth of their children in Christian schools.
- C. To work toward establishing Christian schools of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod that are characterized by a faithful adherence to the Scriptures, by requiring academic excellence, by expecting high student achievement, and by doing community service work.
- D. To promote Lutheran early learning centers, preschools, elementary schools and secondary schools throughout the country, in conjunction with existing congregations or in exploratory mission sites. To this end, the board will:
  1. Advise and assist the congregations of the synod in early childhood, elementary and secondary education, and do so in cooperation with the coordinator of education of Bethany Lutheran College.
  2. Provide leadership education for teachers, pastors, officers and workers in the parish.
  3. Plan a budget so that the work of the board can be adequately carried out and properly financed, including all current programs with allocations for early childhood and elementary education. The draft budget will be forwarded to the Planning and Coordinating Committee for consideration within the General Fund Budget of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod.
  4. Make arrangements with the president of the synod to provide periodically for essays and/or for other suitable material on early childhood, elementary and secondary education at the annual conventions of the synod.

Article III: Members of the Board

Three will be clergymen, two will be male teachers in ELS schools, three will be laymen and one may represent any of those categories. Those serving as teacher representatives must have successfully completed the Evangelical Lutheran Synod Teacher Certification requirements (see Article VII). All terms will be for three years, unless otherwise directed in these guidelines.
- C. The board may suggest to the Committee on Nominations names for all open positions on the board. In proposing nominees, the board will give strong consideration to qualifications and to regional representation from throughout the synod.

- I. Shall assist teachers in becoming familiar with both the traditional and the classical models of Christian education.

(amended 2021 Synod Report, page 191)

Special meetings may be called by the chairman or by a majority of the voting members of the board. However, the board shall not meet on less than two days' notice, oral or written, without the unanimous consent of the board. A majority of the voting members of the board shall constitute a quorum. There shall be no proxy voting.

Article VII: Certification Rules for Teachers of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod

- A. In order for the board to certify a teacher, the candidate must demonstrate that he/she
  1. Is apt to teach.
  2. Is trained and willing to teach religion in accord with the Holy Scriptures and the confession and constitution of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod. (See Evangelical Lutheran Synod Constitution, Paragraph 2 and Paragraph 3.)

    - a. Submission of an application for teacher certification to the ELS Secretary for Schools that includes copies of transcripts.
    - b. Completion of a successful evaluation by the board. This evaluation will include an examination to determine whether the applicant is in doctrinal agreement with the Holy Scriptures and the confession and constitution of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, whether the candidate has completed required courses that are related specifically to Christian education, and to determine the applicant's philosophy of education.
- B. The board shall establish standards for the evaluation of applications for certification.

Article VIII: Jurisdiction and Procedures for the BLC Education Program and the Board for Lutheran Schools

(adopted 2021 Synod Report, page 190)

The Bethany Lutheran College Education program involves training teachers for both public and private school teaching. The following guidelines are developed to maintain fraternal relations with the boards, congregations and synods of our fellowship and to promote the need for all communication to go through the proper channels for good order.

- A. Jurisdiction
  1. The jurisdiction for assisting education graduates intending to serve in ELS schools primarily rests with the ELS Secretary for Schools and the ELS Teacher Assignment Committee (See Guidelines for Assignment Committees, Article II).
  2. The jurisdiction for assisting education graduates not intending to serve in ELS schools rests solely with Bethany Lutheran College.
  3. The jurisdiction for congregations of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod who request teacher candidates from the Bethany Lutheran College Education Department rests with the WELS Commission on Lutheran Schools.

- B. Procedures relating to the ELS
  1. When a teacher candidate signs a declaration of intent at a date to be determined by the Board for Lutheran Schools to be assigned to an ELS school, and has fulfilled the synod's certification program, the ELS Secretary for Schools must be notified.
  2. The ELS Secretary for Schools will then inform as soon as possible those ELS congregations which have teaching vacancies about the availability of teacher candidates for placement.
  3. Congregations must transmit their call for a teacher through the ELS Secretary for Schools by a date to be determined by the Board for Lutheran Schools (See Guidelines for Assignment Committees, Article II).
- C. Procedures relating to the WELS
  1. Since ELS Certification is also recognized as fulfilling the requirements for a call into WELS schools, if a student is eligible and desires to serve in a WELS school, the BLC Coordinator of Education shall inform the ELS Secretary for Schools. The ELS Secretary for Schools will inform the Director of WELS Commission on Lutheran Schools of the availability of a teacher candidate for a call.
  2. In order that the requirements and standards of WELS not be circumvented, WELS congregations or schools who contact Bethany Lutheran College regarding a teacher candidate must be informed that they need to work through the WELS Commission on Lutheran Schools, and/or through their district representative.

Article IX: Budget Preparation, Adoption and Review

- A. The Board for Lutheran Schools shall prepare an annual budget for review and adoption by the board. The budget shall be included in the general fund budget of the synod.
- B. The treasurer of the synod shall provide the Planning and Coordinating Committee with a financial report that will show the revenues and their sources and expenditures for the year.

List of Definitions

(Note: The definitions given below are provided by the Synod Review Committee to identify and describe terms as they are used in the Synod Handbook. These definitions have not been approved by any synod convention and are not legally binding.)

- Ad hoc: Latin, literally meaning “for this.” An ad hoc committee is established with a narrow scope and time frame, for the purpose of dealing with one specific issue or set of issues.
- Administrator: Someone who manages the operation of a business, organization, or plan.
- Advisory: Someone from within the synod who assists and advises a board or committee in its work, but is unelected and therefore cannot participate in the official actions of the board or committee they serve. An advisory member of a board or committee is eligible to speak, but does not have a vote.
- All-in: [adjective] With everything included.
- Articles of Incorporation: The document generally states the legal basis for the existence of a congregation or a legal body, including the state or other governmental entity where the official articles are recorded, such as Minnesota and Wisconsin. Generally this information is intended for those persons who are not members of the corporation but who have relationships with the corporation.
- Board: A small deliberative body subordinate to the synod, established to operate with the authority granted by the synod, with its membership, duties, and number and manner of meetings defined by the synod. See “Committee.”
- Bylaws: A further development or expansion of the general information provided in the constitution. The process for amending bylaws is described in Article VIII. See “Guidelines.”
- Church-related: Official organizations of the synod that support church work and are supervised by a board of the synod.
- Circuit: A circuit is a geographical area of the synod containing a number of congregations. In the circuits the pastors may meet together for conferences and the congregations may have annual circuit meetings. The circuits of the ELS are not governing, administrative units similar to districts in other synodical organizations.
- Circuit visitor: The synod convention elects a visitor and alternate for each circuit of the synod. The visitors, acting on behalf of the president, assist congregations in calling new pastors; assist and counsel the pastors as needed; conduct visitations in the congregations as invited, to help the pastor and congregation in a self-evaluation. In some instances, the visitors are involved in discipline cases.
- Clergy: The Constitution, Bylaws, and Guidelines of the ELS ordinarily use the term clergy to include all ordained men in good standing holding membership in the synod, serving member or non-member congregations; synodical educational institutions; home or foreign missions; synodical officers or staff members; retired pastors (emeriti); or those who are temporarily without a call but members in good standing of the synod. When the term “pastor” is used, it ordinarily means one who is serving a congregation.
- Committee: A small, deliberative body subordinate to the synod, established by the synod to carry out the work assigned to it by the synod and the synod president. While the synod can establish committees, the synod president can also establish committees on an ad hoc basis. See “Board.”
- Congregation: Confessing believers who are regularly gathered in one location around Word and Sacraments; often an incorporated entity.
- Constitution: A written instrument embodying the rules of an organization. The Constitution of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Inc., defines the corporation to the members of the synod. It is a document aimed internally to the synod’s membership in contrast to the Articles of Incorporation that are aimed externally. The process for amending the constitution is described in Article VII.
- Consultant: Someone who may be from outside the synod or outside the board or committee involved, who is invited by a board or committee to give expert advice, assistance, and make recommendations to a board or committee in his/her area of expertise, but is not eligible to vote. The consultant may be paid by the board or committee, such as an architect, engineer, or financial advisor; may be paid by another agency; or may be an unpaid volunteer. The consultant is permitted to speak in the meetings about the field for which one was appointed, or on other matters as the chairman permits. See “Advisory.”
- Corporation: A body formed and authorized by law to act as a single person although constituted by one or more persons and legally endowed with various rights and duties including the capacity of succession. The Evangelical Lutheran Synod is legally registered in the State of Minnesota as the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Incorporated. Owned by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod are five other legally documented bodies: the Wisconsin corporation, the Evangelical Lutheran Synod Foundation, the Missions Advancement Project, Inc., Bethany Lutheran College, Inc. and the Lutheran Schools of America, Inc.

Counselor: A person whose job is to provide advice, help, or encouragement.

Duties: Actions or tasks required of officials, boards, or committees by the guidelines.

Emeritus: An honorary title conferred by a governing body to indicate the completion of an office in the synod. The titles are president emeritus, pastor emeritus, and professor emeritus (fem.-emerita, plural-emeriti).

Ex officio member: Latin, literally meaning “by virtue of the office.” One who, as part of his official duties, serves on a board or committee. An ex officio member of a board or committee has all the privileges, including the right to vote, but none of the obligations of board or committee membership. For example, the synod president is an ex officio member of the Bethany Lutheran College, Inc., Board of Regents. (See Roberts Rules of Order, 10th edition, chapter XVI, paragraph 49, p. 466).

Field Coordinator: Someone who has responsibility over a region of world missions.

For Cause: When an action is taken “for cause,” it means that substantiated charges have been brought against an individual for holding to false doctrine, living a life contrary to Scripture, or the inability to carry out his official duties. Note: actions or suspensions of the synod are not excommunications and do not require unanimity where votes are required.

Goal: The result toward which an effort is directed.

Govern: To set policies and oversee the work of administration. See “Maintain.”

Guideline: A statement or outline of policy or conduct, describing the function or mission of various activities and of the boards and committees of the synod. When appropriate they may include membership, terms of office of members, and responsibilities concerned with the function of the board or committee.

Incorporate: “To form into a legal corporation” under state law.

Layman: All male voting members of the congregations of the ELS, including male teachers, are laymen for the purpose of the synodical organization and its various offices and committees. Retired pastors or pastors who are without a call do not serve in board and committee positions designated for laymen.

Maintain or Manage: To direct from day to day the activities of the institutions. See “Govern.”

Officer:

1) Executive officer: Those who hold an elected office in the corporation; the president, vice president, and secretary of the synod.

2) Board officer: Those selected to positions of authority on a board or committee, i.e., chairman and secretary.

Responsibilities: An accountable obligation established by the guidelines. See “Duties.”

Staff: Personnel employed by the synod and/or its boards and committees some of whom have divine calls to serve in their positions, others of whom are hired. Those staff members who are ordained and preaching as part of their responsibilities receive divine calls.

Sub-Committee: Appointed by a board or committee for specific tasks, with limited personnel and meeting times, that reports to the board or committee.

Synod: Greek, meaning “a walk together” implying a unity of faith. An ecclesiastical governing or advisory council or body. As referred to in the Handbook of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod, Inc., it is the Evangelical Lutheran Synod.

Winkel: Often a “corner” or small area of a circuit. Sometimes “winkel conferences” may include all the pastors in a particular circuit.

Abbreviations used in the Handbook:

BHO = Board for Home Outreach

BWO = Board for World Outreach

BYO = Board for Youth Outreach

Inc. = Generally used in a title as an abbreviation for a legally incorporated entity or institution

LSA = Lutheran Schools of America

MAP = Missions Advanced Project

M.Div. = Master of Divinity

P.em. = Pastor emeritus
